AB | Alex G. Bell

Speech language pathologist with three years of experience in clinical practice. Compassionate and able practitioner who easily develops rapport with clients in order to maximise their progress while undergoing therapy. Adept at writing creative and effective treatment plans and ensuring that they are followed by clients.

182 Binney St., Apt. 41,
Boston, MA 10392
agbell@email.com
(212) 392-0190

Professional Experience

Speech Language Pathologist

Boston Speech Services, Boston, MA | September 2018 — Present

- Provide speech language therapy services at a private practice offering therapy in the home, preschool, or office to children and adults
- Evaluate speech and language skills of prospective clients and determine best treatment plan
- Provide treatment in areas of Alternative Augmentative Communication (AAC), accent modification, apraxia, autism, stuttering, and more
- Continuous evaluation of effects of treatment and adjustments undertaken as necessary
- Create and implement IEP plans for child clients, addressing educational concerns related to speech language abilities

Key Skills

- Team building
- Client management
- Speech and hearing evaluation
- First aid/CPR
- Team player
- Highly organized
- Self motivated
- Client-centered practice

Certifications

- Certified by the State of Massachusetts, August 2018

Education

Master of Science in Communication Disorders

Emerson College Boston, MA
September 2016 — May 2018

- GPA: 3.7/4.0
- Clinical practicum completed at on-campus Robbins Speech Language and Hearing Center
- Program fulfills the requirements for ASHA certification
- Courses included: Neurological Bases of Communication, Clinical Methods, Autism: Social Communication, and Speech Sound Disorders

Bachelor of Science in Communication Disorders

Emerson College Boston, MA
September 2012 — May 2016

- GPA: 3.5/4.0
- Graduated cum laude
- Courses included: Speech Science, Aural Rehabilitation, Phonetics, and Audiology
- Four-year member, Communication Disorders Club; treasurer in senior year